April first is commonly, and fondly, known as April Fool's Day, a day to play innocent practical jokes on family and friends. Although its true origins are not known, one interesting theory is that it began in France in 1564 when King Charles IX decreed that the new year would no longer begin on Easter, as had been common through Christendom, but rather on January 1. Because Easter was a lunar and therefore moveable date, those who clung to the old ways were the "April Fools." There are numerous other explanations of the origin of this tradition.

Those who do not believe, either atheists or agnostics, often accuse believers in the resurrected Jesus as the Christ to be fools. Not possessing faith themselves, they cannot understand how anyone could give of their time, talent, or treasure to an idea that cannot be proved or touched, in effect cannot be real. Of course, from a Christian perspective, this is a misunderstanding of faith. Hebrews 11:1 tells us that "Faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." Faith tells us that God does exist. Living into faith proves to us, in many intangible ways, that this is true. Further, two great theologians, Anselm, Archbishop of Canterbury, 1109, and Thomas Aquinas, Priest and Friar, 1274, provide convincing arguments that appeal to faith.

"Anselm remains the great exponent of the so-called "ontological argument" for the existence of God: God is 'that than which nothing greater can be thought.' Even the fool, who (in Psalm 14) says in his heart 'There is no God,' must have an idea of God in his mind, the concept of an unconditional being (ontos) than which nothing greater can be conceived; otherwise he would not be able to speak of 'God' at all. And so this something, 'God,' must exist outside the mind as well; because, if he did not, he would not in fact be that than which nothing greater can be thought. Since the greatest thing that can be thought must have existence as one of its properties, Anselm asserts, 'God' can be said to exist in reality as well as in the intellect, but is not dependent upon the material world for verification. To some, this 'ontological argument' has seemed mere deductive rationalism [to those who have no faith]; to others it has the merit of showing that faith in God need not be contrary to human reason. As for which comes first, faith or understanding, Anselm said this, 'I do not seek to understand that I may believe, but I believe in order that I may understand. For this, too, I believe, that unless I first believe, I shall not understand.'"<sup>1</sup>

Over a century later, c 1270, Thomas Aquinas came at the subject from a different angle. "Perceiving the challenges that the recent rediscovery of Aristotle's (an ancient Greek philosopher) works might entail for traditional catholic doctrine, especially in its emphasis upon empirical knowledge derived from reason and sense perception, independent of faith and revelation, Thomas asserted that reason and revelation are in basic harmony. 'Grace' (revelation), he said, 'is not the denial of nature' (reason), 'but the perfection of it.' This synthesis Thomas accomplished in his greatest works, the Summa Theologica and the Summa Contra Gentiles, which even today continue to exercise profound influence on Christian thought and philosophy...."

"Thomas understood God's disclosure of his Name, in Exodus 3:14, "I AM WHO I AM," to mean that God is Being ["to be" is a form of "I am"], the Ultimate Reality from which everything else derives its being. The difference between God and the world is that God's essence is to exist, whereas all other beings derive their being from him by the act of creation. Although, for Thomas, God and the world are distinct, there is, nevertheless, an analogy of being between God and the world, since the Creator is reflected in his creation. It is possible, therefore, to have a limited knowledge of God, by analogy from the created world. On this basis, human reason can demonstrate that God exists; that he created the world; and that he contains in himself, as their cause, all the perfections which exist in his creation. The distinctive truths of Christian faith, however, such as the Trinity and the Incarnation, are known only by revelation [something a person who has no Christian faith would recognize]."<sup>2</sup>

Whether or not an individual accepts the Christian worldview is a matter of faith. The apostle, Paul, tells us, "Where is the wise man? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. For Jews demand signs and Greeks seek wisdom, but we preach Christ Crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men." (1 Corinthians 1:20-25, RSV) He goes on to say in 3:18-20, "Let no one deceive himself. If any one among you thinks that he is wise in this age, let him become a fool that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is folly with God. For it is written, 'He catches the wise in their craftiness,' and again, 'The Lord knows that the thoughts of the wise are futile.'" In essence, let's be fools for Christ's sake. That's being no April Fool.

The search for a new pastor

St. Peter's Search Committee has now completed the development of the documentation to submit to the Diocese of Southern Virginia for their input and finalization before advertisement on their network. The Vestry reviewed this documentation at their March 17 meeting and some modifications were made based on their input prior to sending on to Canon Hoffman.

We will continue to advise the parish as things progress through the search and interview processes; however, at this point we are just waiting for the Diocese to get back to us after their review.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church
Vestry Meeting Minutes
February 12, 2024

Opening: The St. Peter's Vestry met together in the Diffenbaugh Library on February 12, 2024. Attending the meeting in person were Fr. Jim Hunter, Vel Shreve, Linsey Shreve, Judy Eller, Charlotte Corbett, and Debbie Whitehorne. Via Facetime was Liz Kress and via phone call was Charlie Pfeifer. Absent was Peggy Pfeifer. This meeting began with Evening Prayer at 7:00 P.M.

Agenda: Fr. Jim asked all to look at the agenda for the evening and see if any changes or additions needed to be made before starting. Vel Shreve motioned to accept the agenda as is and Debbie Whitehorne seconded. It was approved by acclamation.

Minutes: The minutes from January 8th, 2024, were approved with a motion from Linsey Shreve and seconded by Vel Shreve. It was passed by acclamation.

Financial Report: Charlie Pfeifer presented the January financial report via phone to the Vestry. With no further discussion or questions, Vel Shreve motioned to accept the report and Linsey Shreve seconded. It was passed by acclamation.

Rector's Report: Fr. Jim reported that the Vestry Retreat with Lynn Farlin was very successful. He also reported that he did take communion to Mary and Larry Laine.

Senior Warden's Report: Linsey Shreve asked for help with the Vestry Lenten dinner and a sign-up sheet was presented. The Search Committee was inquiring about a consultant to help with the search. It would be approximately $100 - $200 depending on how many times they use them. There is an amount in the MAP that covers this cost. Charlie Pfeifer motioned to hire a consultant for the Search Committee and Debbie Whitehorne seconded. It was passed by acclamation. Lynn Farlin recommended we "lock down" our core values. The list that came out of the Retreat was narrowed down to "Education", "Outreach", "Welcoming" and "Serving".

Junior Warden: Debbie Whitehorne has received quotes for painting, cleaning, and fixing the church. Lighting would also be quoted, as well as fixing the termite damage. It is suggested that we paint all the doors red to eliminate any rust bleeding through. Debbie has contacted Felix (group that repaired the steeple over the Parish Hall) and she is expecting him to come out this week to measure and give her an estimate on replacing the roof. She is also exploring putting carpeting on the back wall in the Church to help with acoustics.

New Business:

- Search Committee: Vel Shreve reported that they are moving right along. They have finished the OTM (Office of Transitional Ministry) documents. Liz Kress has done a fantastic job keeping it all together. Canon Hoffman has the documents and will look it over this week and get back to the committee. Liz has sent a link to the Parish Profile to all Vestry members. Editing can be done to the document, but it is very important that all changes be reported to Liz Kress. The Committee has worked on a list of questions to ask the potential candidate. When they have narrowed the applicants down to 2, they will then forward the information to the Vestry for a decision.
- Meeting with the Bishop: Fr. Jim has a meeting with the Bishop on Thursday, Feb. 15, 2024. He believes that the only information he can give her right now is that St. Peter's is a healthy parish, not dysfunctional. Full of faithful, kind, hard-working and generous parishioners. St. Peter's experiences the same stresses other parishes have, reduced membership, facility upkeep, and membership. The parish is fully aware of the challenge of finding a clergy person who is willing to do what is needed on a part-time basis. Options include a bi-vocational priest, a retired military chaplain who with a pension can afford to take on this parish, or sharing a priest with another parish, something we have done before with St. Bride's. The question from Bishop Susan was "What does St. Peter's need after Fr. Jim steps down in July?" From the email Fr. Jim sent out, the only replies to this question he received were from Vel and Bob Vanderslice. He wants input from the Vestry on this subject.

February 12, 2024

3. Buildings and Grounds Grant Guidelines: Debbie distributed the information to the Vestry. She is asking for assistance with filling out the forms and accessing the information required. The caveat is Safe Church, which requires 2 years of records and St. Peter's does not have that. Debbie will need assistance in narrowing down all the work that needs to be done and the cost involved.
4. Bishop Curry's Letter asking for donations to the Absolom Jones Fund: Fr. Jim's suggestion was to send out the information to the parish members and then they in turn can contribute. The Fund was not in the church's budget this year, so we cannot afford to contribute.
5. Tidewater Family Plus: Suggestion to advertise in this again. We currently advertise through Welcome Wagon. Discussion went to advertising through Social Media and Online. Liz Kress and Linsey Shreve will look into their businesses (or in Liz's case, her mother's business) to find out how we can do this.

Old Business –

1. Electrical issues: Debbie is looking into this also. She has received an estimate from Hutton. The most critical fix at this moment is to the outlet outside for the pump (which the Fire Department has pointed out and asked to have fixed), the parking lot light (that is not Dominion Powers light) and the lights outside the church that shine on the stained glass windows. Barry Connelly, who has done a lot of electrical work for us, has given an estimate of $1300.00 for all of it. Hutton Electric quoted $1700.00 just to come out and find the electrical line. Charlie made a motion to accept the quote from Barry Connelly. Vel seconded. Passed by acclamation. Hutton Electric is also one of the quotes Debbie received to work on the fuses for the church and day school, and a quote on the lights in the Sanctuary. It would require a JLG (one-man bucket lift) to reach these lights. These items will be tabled at this time and may best fit the grant application.
2. Dominion Power Energy Savings Inspection: The gentleman was a contractor for Dominion Power and they would look throughout the church, especially the HVAC system to check for leaks or other energy waste and make suggestions on repairs, changes, etc. This will be tabled until more investigation.
3. Old Copier Disposal: Linsey has posted it on Offer Up and Debbie would put it on Marketplace. The ad Linsey had the cost was $1200. The extra supplies could be sold separately for probably more than the actual copier. Debbie will start the listing cost at $2000 and move it down as needed.
4. Fence: No decision was made about what to do with the fence. Do we try to get it back up or take it down? Part of the fence has been put back up – not well, but an attempt was made. We had no contact from Teresa (the truck driver that knocked the fence down), but people were seen out there measuring and exploring the area. Vel asked for Teresa's phone number, and she would call her.
5. Bylaws: Charlie is still working on the bylaws. The Search Committee needs them by the end of February for submittal to Canon Hoffman.
6. Cleaning Company: Debbie is receiving offers, but the cleaners have been doing a good job in the day school. Charlie would like to see a lower cost if possible.

The next Vestry meeting will be March 11, 2024.

There being no further business, the meeting was closed with the remainder of the Evening Prayer service and then adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Laura Kallestad

Registrar
